Domestic Energy Assessment

With the continual requirement for qualified Domestic Energy Assessors throughout the UK, this qualification offers candidates the opportunity of a flexible and rewarding career in the ever growing property Industry. Since Energy Performance Certificates have been mandatory since 1st August it is a legal requirement for specified properties to hold an Energy Performance Certificate undertaken by a qualified Domestic Energy Assessor.

GET Training is one of the only training providers to offer a fast-track, two week intensive course during which candidates are immersed in all the elements of the Domestic Energy Assessment Course requirements. Additionally, GET Training are unique to offer observed EPC visits with each candidate on course. At the end of the two weeks, our tutors provide continued support as candidates develop a portfolio of evidence to demonstrate fulfilment of the individual units.

Topics include:

- What is an Energy Performance Certificate?
- EPC Recommendations
- EPC on line software
- Observed EPC visit with Assessor
- On site completion of EPC's
- RdSap data collection procedures
- The surveying of properties
- Ageing properties
- Construction methods
- Heating systems and energy efficiency
- Preparing relevant documents

Mock exams are staged prior to actual written exams in order to prepare candidates and provide them with full support, and each group is limited in size to ensure candidates have access to all teaching resources whenever they need them.

Upon course completion candidates are able to register with one of the Government approved DEA Regulators and seek full-time employment or work self-employed in this burgeoning field.

Benefits

Because demand for Domestic Energy Assessors is so high, candidates who successfully complete the DEA course will be qualified for a range of flexible and financially rewarding roles. Our course is designed to ensure you complete it successfully in the shortest possible time, allowing you to start earning straight away. Our tutors are handpicked and will guide you through the process from start to finish, even providing support and advice after course completion. And on gaining this qualification, candidates are eligible to develop their knowledge with other related courses.

GET Training are working in close collaboration with Northern Gas Heating, one of the West Midlands leading Panel Managers for Home Information Packs. Upon successful completion of the course candidates are given the opportunity to register with Northern Gas Heating to start work in this lucrative industry.
